

My Second Chance, Inc. empowers women by giving them the skills and support they need to become productive members of society. Your support is invaluable to us.

My Second Chance, Inc. is a not-for-profit 501 (c) (3) Texas corporation dedicated to providing gender-specific supportive services, housing, training and job readiness training to disadvantaged women. The goal is to empower women by giving them the skills and support they need to become productive members of the work force.

When children see their mothers learn new skills, gain self-esteem, take control of their own lives and rise from poverty, they share in that success and adopt the same work ethic.
